

Build your confidence by cutting your teeth on a simple example. Describe the strategic blueprint of Google's business model for Google Search with the help of the Business Model Canvas.

To do this exercise:

- Print out or draw a Business Model Canvas. Alternatively, do this exercise directly in the Strategyzer App.
- Sketch out your understanding of Google's Search business on the Canvas with sticky notes.
- Apply the ground rules learned in the previous step.

In this short exercise, you don't need to go into the details of initiatives such as Android (their mobile phone operating system), or Google Apps (their enterprise offering), which both support their search business. Just sketch out the big picture.
