

In this last video, explore how everything comes together, from idea to prototyping to testing. The video features the winners of the 2013 International Business Model Competition (IBMC) at Harvard.

The winning team presents how they designed and tested their business models. Observe how different the presentation is from the traditional business plan pitch.

Link: Business Model Competition Website